

List of Leadership Qualities

1. Open-Mindedness & Creativity

Being a Good leader means being open to new ideas, possibilities, and perspectives and understanding that there's no 'right' way to do things. Leaders must be able to listen, observe and be willing to change course when necessary.

2. Patience and Perseverance.

A Good Leader always looks at the long-term goal. Being able to keep take on any bumps in the road and persist on ~~which~~ without getting frustrated.

3. Good communication skills

Good Leaders are always Good listeners, too. They are also likely to show high level of assertiveness, which enables them to make their point without aggression, but firmly.

4. His / Her Vision

Leadership vision is the ability to concentrate on the most important aspect of self or business, in which he/she should have an ambitious vision. A vision is an end towards leader can spend and direct their energy and resources.

5. Inspiration

Equally as important as having a vision is the ability to convey that vision to others, and get them excited about it. ~~Also~~
